Comments: Beans continue to be well supported as general Midwest planting pace for corn should stay ahead of schedule. Updated planting completion percentages will be out later this afternoon. Equity market mixed but at last look the DOW was back higher. Announcement out of Washington that new tariffs have brought in $15 billion so far. Wheat market in dire straits with new lows set today. Canada voting for a new Parliament today. Weekly export shipments were fantastic once again with corn totaling 65.14 million and beans 16.14 million. With 18 weeks left in the marketing year we need to average 44.76 million corn per week and 11.47 million beans to achieve the USDA goal. Have a nice evening.
